

Firwinie, Our Canada Goose - Back for a 3rd Year.

Ah, the signs of springtime - flowers blossoming, birds chirping, the weather warming. At Firwin, we have another sign that spring has arrived - the perennial arrival of our very own Canada goose, Firwinie. For the 3rd straight year, she has returned, making her nest outside of Paul Herman's office.

There she sat for weeks on end, barely moving from her nest, come rain, wind, or shine. We were all keeping an eye on her, looking for signs that her young were ready to hatch. Alas, this year, Firwinie decided to stay out of the limelight, and hatched her young over the weekend. Luckily, our intrepid company photographer (a.k.a. Paul Herman) managed to track down Firwinie, along with her hubby and her young. Enjoy the photos!

Out for a Family Stroll

Getting Instructions from Mom

Coming in for a closer look

Other articles: New Languages . Spiral Hose Wrap . Tapes vs. Blankets