

Inside Firwin – Happy Birthday!

At Firwin, we have a monthly tradition that we thought we would share with you. At the end of every month, all the employees gather in the lunch room for an "end of month" birthday celebration. All those who have had a birthday that month hold a candle, and everybody sings (or at least tries to sing) happy birthday .

"I think it's important that our workers feel appreciated", said Miriam Herman, Firwin's vice-president, surrogate mother, and the impetus behind the birthday tradition. "We've been doing this since nearly day one, twenty five years ago. It's our way of letting everyone know that they are special."

So, on the last day of the month, Firwin employees can be found loading up on cakes, ice-cream, and some of Miriam's home-made specialties. "The cakes we've always had", notes Miriam. "But the ice-cream, we only added that a couple of years ago." Mmm!
